Colorado River Prley Favors 2 KILLED AS Early Construction Program

DELEGATION LEAVES FOR BOULDER TODAY

Arizona Delegates Swinging Over to Hoover Development Plan

(United Press Leased Wire) PHOENIX, Ariz., March 17-The third and final session of the Colorado river commission hearings opened here today with a general trend in sentiment on the part of the delegates toward an early start on actual construction of the Boulder canyon dam.

Trouble between the various states still flared frequently, but a desire to "get something started," was expressed on every hand.

It was conceded that the Boulder conyon dam was the most feasible project to meet the demands for flood control, reclamation and power development.

Despite pressure brought to bear by the George H. Maxwell faction which was making a strong fight along the line that main water rights on the border belong to Arizona, a strong sentiment was said to favor accepting the counsel of Herbert Hoover that if the greatest common asset is to be developed in accordance with "the greatest good to

Democrats Hoping for Word From Wilson on Pact Fight

Woman in Auto Kills Man

By LAWRENCE MARTIN

WASHINGTON, March 17-Hope of eleventh hour aid from Woodrow Wilson today was keeping alive some of the Democratic opposition to the four-power treaty.

Mere mention of Wilson's name gave rise, as usual, to a crop of totally unsubstantiated rumors, but among them there were evidences of one fact—that some of the Democrats either have appealed or will appeal to Wilson to use his influence with individual Democratic senators to have them vote against the

It was reported Wilson would do this between now and Friday, March 24, the date for voting on the pact.

There is no doubt that if Wilson would openly align himself with the treaty's foes he would change some votes. Whether he could change enough to prevent ratification is a question.

NEW SENSATION IN OIL WELL LOOTING AS FIFTH MAN HELD

Another sensation developed today in the amazing case of the alleged El Toro oil well looting, as the sheriff's office, following a trail formed by bills of sale for the alleged stolen property, came to J. W. O'Day, former Trabuco silver miner, who is the fifth suspect arrested in connection with the tangled affair. This new sensation, sprung by O'Day, was the declaration that the property alleged to have been stolen was not stolen at all and that, therefore, the crime of grand larceny charged against him and four others through whose hands the equipment passed, was never committed. That because O'Day, himself, instead of the Sunrise Consolidated Oil company, or E. Conterno, the prosecuting witness, owned the drilling equipment, he declared.

in Our Show Windows

We Thank You-

We wish to thank the women of Santa Ana who braved the rain yesterday and complimented us on the opening of our Santa Ana store. It was indeed gratifying to hear the expressions of approval and praise of our collection of apparel. All day long our store was thronged and the fact that they came through pouring rain, makes us feel that our advent in Santa Ana is a triumph.

Come Tonight

—and see the latest spring styles displayed on LIVING MODELS IN OUR SHOW WINDOWS. This event was scheduled to take place last night, but postponed on account of the rain. We want you to see this exhibition, which will really be an education in the modes of the season.

ADMITS GUILT, GIVEN SENTENCE SAME DAY

Popular belief that the wheels of justice grind slowly received a setback today in the case of J. W. Gray, alias T. H. Lehman, who was awaiting transfer to San Quentin for a term of from 1 to 14 years.

Gray, he'd to answer to the superior court by Justice J. B. Cox, late yesterday, on a charge of passing a no-fund check, entered a plea of guilty today to Superior Judge R. Y. Williams, who passed sentence at once. Legal rights to delay had been waived by both the prosecution and defense at each stage of the proceedings. eedings.

It was expected that Sheriff C. E. Jackson would send Gray to San Quentin either today or tomorrow. Gray had admitted passing a nofund check for $10 on George Demetrio, of the Palace cafe, this city, June 14, 1921.

New Piece Goods and New Prices At Gilbert's

EDITORIAL

These are the days when careful buying should be the watchword of every householder. Much that is questionable in character has been manufactured in the past year or two to meet the popular public demand for lower prices. Many of these things have the appearance of quality that is not borne out in service.

It is a time when the trustworthy service of long-established. dependable business houses will be appreciated by those seeking real value for their money. It is a time when it pays to trade with firms that can be depended upon to do what is right in all circumstances.

It will be the part of The E. S. Gilbert store to protect its patrons against the purchase of inferior goods. Goods that pass over these counters MUST make Goods of known quality cannot be sold below a certain cost. Before investing money in a garment or article that has an appeal on account of its cheapness, it will be wise to consider whether or not it is all that it appears to be.

Gilbert's prices are low-as low as one should pay. Goods that can be sold for less money are, to say the least, questionable in character.

It is worth something in satisfaction to know that this merchandise is fully as good as it is represented to be.

You can depend upon thisthe people in Gilbert's store will do what is right.

"LOST ROMANCE"

Interesting Photoplay, Produced with Excellent Taste, Showing at West End.

It wasn't romance that was lostit was that precious attribute, humor -two badly needed senses of humor that had slipped quietly into the seams of every-day-ness, used-to-meness, and the monotony of moderate success. At least that is what a nice person named Aunt Elizabeth seemed to think in the Edward Knoblock story, "The Lost Ro-mance," opening at the West End Thoroughly Agreeable.

"The Lost Romance" is such an agreeable picture. It tells of people you know,if you happen to be any-body in this world, of the things they do, the things they think, some of the fun, some of the woes, and a bit of the silly, tempting thoughts they cuddle close. It is about a fine young couple who marry, have a son, and make a success of life, apparent-There has been another wooer during the courtship days. Of course, when he steps into the plot after five years of married life for the other two, he looks to the wife like romance with all of the old thrill still present. How near she comes to losing her real happiness, and how the wistful aunt, who has kept the roses of her romance even when the petais are dried, steps in and sets matters right -these are interesting developments

Own Your Own Home Week

By A. V. NAPIER

I had a friend who used to insist that it was cheaper in the long run to rent a place than it was to own a home. He always had a lot of figures dealing with interest on the investment, taxes, upkeep and the like, which he set down beside a bundle of rent receipts and claimed to show a balance in favor of the renter.

Only Two States Have Fever Thermometer Laws

These states are New York and Massachusetts. Even these are of recent enactment due to investigations conducted by Boston and Brooklyn City Boards of Health in which they found 69 per cent of clinical thermometers inspected were defective-many being off a degree or more. It is said the investigation was brought about by a baby dying who was apparntly well-showing only a slight temperature by the thermometer used. It has been the custom for thermometer manufacturers to make thermometers and compare them with the National standard at Washington. But glass tubing sometimes shrinks and thus the reading will not be accurate. The states above mentioned demand that thermometer manufacturers send every instrument to the state sealer who verifies the reading and directs the state seal be applied if they are accurate. The tests given the thermometers by these state sealers are very rigid and it is obvious only fully tempered and seasoned tubing will stand this test.

Our Thermometers Have the Massachusetts Seal

We buy only the highest grade fever thermometers—those having the Mass. State seal. In addition every thermometer we self carries a certifi-caet of accuracy in which the manufacturer attests he has used only the highest grade of fully seasoned tubing.

in practically all, if not all, of the cities of the county.

Something over a year ago, ordinances were passed by the board of supervisors for the county and by various boards of city trustees for the cities. These ordinances were drawn up to conform to the federal Volstead act, and were designed to give local police officers unquestioned authority to prosecute in local courts anyone who might be caught selling liquor or transporting it.

Those who doubted the validity of the local ordinances maintained that enforcement was entirely a matter for federal officers.

District Attorney A. P. Nelson,

nenforcement was entirely a matter for federal officers.

District Attorney A. P. Nelson, however, has never so construed the county ordinance. He has main tained always that it was a valid ordinance, and that local police authorities had the power to accunder it. Prosecutions under the county law have been brought unhesitatingly by the district attorney's office.

"The decision of the supreme court," said Nelson today, "only strengthens our ordinance. So long as there was no supreme court decision there was always a chance that the local ordinance would not be held invalid. The decision sustains cur contention in the matter. However, we have not held back on any over, we have not held back on any prosecution because the decision had not been made. Prosecutions, now that the decision is made, will be continued by this office just as vigorously as ever. Of the many prosecutions handled in this county in the past year, no case has been taken up other near Santa Ana.

PETROLEUM RESOURCES OF STATE DESCRIBED

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17 alifornia's petroleum resources and the possibility of obtaining crude oil in portions of the state now unproductive, are discussed in detail in a new report just issued by the Cali-fornia State Mining bureau, accordress by State Mineralogist Fletcher Hamilton.

This publication, known as Bulletin 89, and entitled "Petroleum Reources of California" was written by Lawrence Vander Leck, an oil geologist of recognized ability in his chosen field. In preparing his report Vander Leck spent twelve months traveling back and forth over every portion of California, and no part of the state is so remote that was overlooked when the author whether or not oil or gas could rea-

PERUVIAN LOAN WAITS OFFICIAL SANCTION

NEW YORK, March 17 - Negotiations are still proceeding for the Peruvian loan to the amount of $10,000,000 to $15,000,000, to be floated in the United States; but the original New York banking house to secure the options in this business will not be the house to bring out the issue, it became known here. An important group of New York investment bankers has agreed in principal upon the setup of the dollar loan and will close the deal just as soon as the Peruvian Congress convene to pass the necessary bond legisla tion needed.

ATHLETES FROM FOUR COUNTIES TO COMPETE ON LOCAL TRACK TOMORROW

Santa Ana and Huntington Beach B. V. D. Artists Have Excellent Chances of Copping First Honors; Adkinson Looks for Some Fast Time

Due to the poor condition of the Poly track, Manager Hatcher of the high school late today announced the postponement for one week of the tri-county meet to have been held here tomorrow. If rain makes the holding of the meet next Saturday impossible, the affair will be called off entirely, it was announced.

Athletes from Orange, San Bernardino, Riverside and Los Angeles counties, were today on their toes in preparation for the "tri-county" meet to be held on Poly track tomorrow.

Although all early announcements called the affair a "tri" county meet, entries from Santa Monica and Army and Navy college in Los Angeles county brought the affair into the four county class. Athletes from all the schools in the three counties and the two others mentioned are entered and some fast time is looked for.

Huntington Beach is expected to loom big in the affair tomorrow, and may even take the title. Coach Ray Adkinson's men are going to make a determined effort to cop the title, however, and if previous records stand for anything, the locals have a good chance to come through.

Following are the entries by ev

Poly Baseball Outfit Plays Fullerton In League Fray Today

Barring wet grounds, Orange county high school baseball teams were scheduled to battle this afternoon in the second series of the county schedule.

The big battle of the year was expected to take place when Coach H. M. Morrison's huskies travel to Fullerton to meet Coach Lewis's nine. While the oil vil-lage lads have expressed intententions of copping the Southern California title in baseball as well as basketball. Coach Morrison's men recall the fact that they made similar statements in football, and that the matter ended there. Both teams won the the first games of the season, and each was confident of victory today. Fullerton expected to be handicapped by the absence of

LIFE AND CHARACTER READING

Frequently, women of this birthdate are so superlatively careless in all household matters that even their sweet disposition cannot make up for the trouble they create in a well-ordered household. These are the people who kick up mats and rugs, and never seem aware that they do not leave things exactly as they found them.

not leave things exactly as they found them.

There is a peculiar obstinacy in a Pisces person, which sometimes becomes a most formidable element to deal with and really seems inexplicable, but is easily explained. The natural timidity and abnormal delicacy of these people acts as a constant restraint, and after a while the nature becomes tired of the yoke of its own placing and rebels.

The governing sign of this date is Pisces, the governing planets are Jupiter and Neptune. The birthstone is a turquoise.

This sign is not favorable to restless discontented minds, so make no change on this date, but just study the Want Ads carefully.
